

D&D FAMILY CAMPAIGN

ACTIVE QUESTS

#	Description	For	Outcome
M7	Find out why the giants took the Nightstone from the town.
M8	Find out more about the alliance between the Drow and the Fire Giants and their proposed removal of the Anvil of Moradin.
	Discovered a parchment from Zalto (Fire Giant King) to the Honoured Lady of House Xorlarrin (Drow) stating "I am dispatching a war band led by Okssort and Ildmans to collect the Anvil. Ensure all preparations are complete by the end of the month. I look forward to the successful continuation of our alliance." Magnolius knows that Zalto is a powerful fire giant from the North and that House Xorlarrin is a Drow clan which has been challenging the dwarves for control of the city of Gauntlgrym.
	While investigating the Cult of the Dragon for the Harpers in Triboar (S8), there was an invasion of a group of giant orcs and fire giants transporting the Anvil of Moradin from the Wave Echo cave. We defeated the invaders.
	We hid the anvil by burying it on the outskirts of Triboar in the yard of Wainwright's sawmill.
S2	Help Gundren with the mine to increase our 10% share.	Gundren Rockseeker
	Gundren said he may increase our share to 15% if we help with the mine such as getting the water wheel working again, providing security for the mine, or dealing with any potential Fire Giant threat.
S3	Bring law and order to Phandalin.	Vorth specific
	Things are better now that the Redbrands have no leader. Vorth needs to decide if he wants to expand his role in the town.
	It's possible that we could persuade Harbin, the Townmaster, to let us take over the old Redbrand stronghold, Tresendar Manor.
	Discussed taking over the manor with Harbin. Harbin to discuss with the wealthier residents.
S4	Decide whether to take Halia Thornton up on her offer.	Vorth specific
	Halia asked Vorth to join the organisation she is a part of. Could bring wealth and power. She was interested in any information he could provide about his companions and his assistance in ensuring that their objectives didn't "conflict" with her own.

#	Description	For	Outcome
S5	Discover the whereabouts of a spellbook owned by the legendary mage Bowgentle.	Sister Garaele Phandalin Shrine of Luck
	Sister Garaele has been given a task by her "superiors" to obtain some information from a banshee named Agatha about the whereabouts of a spellbook owned by the legendary mage Bowgentle. Her quest had been a failure, and she was hoping if someone else tried they might have more luck.
	We said we might consider helping after we had dealt with our urgent business.
	The location of the banshee is thought to be Conyberry.
	Found Agatha the banshee who, in exchange for moonstone earrings, told us she traded the spell book to a necromancer named Tsernoth from the city of Iriaebor more than a hundred years ago.
	Delivered information to Sister Garaele who said it would be enough for her organisation to continue their search.		Reward of three potions (Flying, Clairvoyance, Gaseous Form)
	Garon, barkeep of the Ol' Boar Inn in Oakhurst, heard there was a Necromancer hanging around Old Owl Well, "tampering with the bodies of the dead".
	We travelled to the Old Owl Well and found a necromancer there (Harmun Kost of the Red Wizards of Thay). He did not know anything about the spellbook but indicated he was looking for something at the well. We killed him before we could find out what.
S7	Travel to the legendary time gates.	Magnolius specific
	It is thought that the time gates are near a tower of some kind. Perhaps near Old Owl Well?
	Magnolius found a parchment sewn into a cover of a history book a parchment which seemed to refer to a Temple of Mysteryl near Arthindol's watchtower. It said the entrance is in a well.
	At the Temple of Mysteryl, found a note "Virkul, These scrolls should help you avoid trouble. The warlock will be long dead by now. Bring the mask to me at Skyreach Castle. R".
	Found a tome at the Temple of Mysteryl that appeared to be a journal or diary containing entries going back over 500 years but ending over 100 years ago. It seemed to be an annual log of the "Keepers of the Light of Mysteryl" who lit the braziers, "renewed the Seals" and checked that the "Gate" was still closed. The final entry referred to some of the sarcophagi having been opened.
	Found a map of North West Faerun at the Temple of Mysteryl with four markers and an unknown language.
S8	Sister Garaele invited Erato to join the "Harpers".	Erato specific

	She gave him the probationary rank of "Watcher" and said that someone would be in touch if help was needed.
	Sister Garaele asked Erato to investigate the Cult of the Dragon and the large shipments they are taking along the High Road and east along the Triboar Trail. She asked us to infiltrate an incoming caravan.
	We are to report to her superior, Darathra Shendel, in Triboar with any information.
	Rescued, Carlon Amoffel, a harper from being buried up to his head in the road. He is also tracking cult shipments and is heading to Triboar.
	We met a lizard folk, Snapjaw, who agreed to guide us to a castle (Naerytar Castle) in a swamp where the dragon cult are moving their supplies. He is working for the cult but is trying to persuade others to join against them. He said the most valuable supplies are taken to the basement. A tribe of lizard folk and a tribe of bullywugs (frog humanoids) work at the castle for the cult. The two tribes don't get on - the bullywugs think they are lords of the swamp and try to bully the lizard folk who have lower numbers. The cult leader at the castle is looking for the black mask.
	We snuck into the castle and took out the leader of the bullywugs, Pharblex. This might help up instigate a lizard folk uprising against the cult.
	Re-encountered the Thayan red wizard from the caravan. He said the world as we know it will be gone and then shouted a warning to "Rezmir" to flee. He then fled himself.
	Defeated "haughty looking elf". Rezmir, the half black dragon fled. Found some sort of teleportation portal but could not activate it.
	Found a scrying device that showed a black dragon's lair in the swamp. Erato believes he can find it although it would be a long journey.
	Found a note from Rezmir stating that the command word for the teleportation portal is the name of the Leader of the Academy of Stargazers. Her name?

#	Description	For	Outcome
	Reported back to Darathra Shendrel, who we learned is Lord Protector of Triboar, regarding the events at the castle and the discovery of the teleportation portal. Erato had showed his Harper badge to gain access to her and was scolded for doing so and asked to be more discreet. Darathra said she had never heard of the Academy of Stargazers or their leader and suggested we look for a Sage in Neverwinter or Waterdeep or speak to her contact in Everlund to locate someone who could cast a Legend Lore spell. When pushed for more useful information, she admitted that there was a powerful mage, Hyuth Kolstaag, who had built a manor house in Triboar a few years ago and that he might be able to cast the spell. However she warned them that he was an unpleasant, unfriendly and antisocial character who had only brought trouble to the town. She also agreed to send messages to other contacts to see if there were any alternative options. We visited the Boar's Rest, Hyuth's mansion, but were unable to gain access before an invasion of the town started. The invasion was a group of giant orcs and fire giants transporting the Anvil of Moradin from the Wave Echo cave. We defeated the invaders. Cross Ref M8.
	Darathra wanted to make the Harpers away of the situation so gave Erato a platinum badge with the Triboar insignia and urged him to travel east to Danivarr's house in Everlund and give the badge to Dral Thelev, the one-eyed half-orc proprietor. She pointed out that would also be able to obtain help in finding out the command word for the Dragon Cult teleportation circle in Everlund.
	Continued our journey to Everlund. On the way saw the bodies of two frost giants and Uthgardt barbarians which had clearly battled with each other, and a floating cloud giant castle. Stayed in Olostin's Hold where we met a patrol from Everlund. Agreed to travel with them on their return to Everlund.
	After presenting badge to Dral Thelev, we were transported to Moongleam Tower where we met Krowen Valharrow. Erato reported on the events related to the Cult and in Triboar. Krowen granted us access to the Harpers network of teleportation circles (Everlund, Yartar, Waterdeep, Neverwinter, Mirabar, Loudwater) and, after some research, informed us the leader of the Stargazers was Adele Astrolara.
	Returned to Triboar and reported in with Darathra. Then returned to the castle and used the command word to move through the teleport.

#	Description	For	Outcome
	Met with members of the Cult of the Dragon. A woman in white is aggrieved because she believes she should be the wearing the white dragon mask and not Varram the White who has been given that honour. She wants our assistance in discrediting others in the cult so she can rise through the ranks. The treasure the cult has been collecting has been loaded onto a cloud giants flying castle. She wants us to sabotage it. This would not do any significant damage to the cult's overall goals but would discredit, or even dispose of, a couple of her rivals. She mentioned Rezmir and the Red Wizards. From the rest of her speech it appeared that the long term goal of the cult of the dragon is to summon Tiamat the goddess of dragons from her prison in the nine hells. We also learned that Erato needs to seek out a black dragon to assist him with unlocking the full power of his mask. We agreed to help her.
	We made our way to the cloud giant castle near the village of Hilltop. Before entering the castle, we spoke with a local who said leader in the area seemed to be the half-dragon Rezmir, although he hadn't seen her for quite a while, and that her second in command was Captain Othelstan who looked after the day-to-day activities in the village. He also thought the castle would be moving soon as there had been extra supplies delivered over the last couple of days.
S9	Find the magic giant slaying great axe.	Urgala, Northshield House, Triboar
	Urgala told us one of her companions was a wealthy knight named Harthos Zymorven. He used to wield a magic giant slaying great axe. She thinks he would be willing to part with it if they mention her name and explain the reason for needing it (defeat the giants). The last time she had spoken with him he had been living in his ancestral keep, Zymorven Hall which is on the Rauvin road northwest of Silverymoon (about 4 or 5 days from Everlund).
S10	Deliver the “Weevil” to the authorities.	Darz Helgar, Caravan Campgrounds, Triboar
	Darz said a merchant from Mirabar saw a dwarf cleaning stables in Xantharl's Keep, a fortified village on the Long Road (about a week's journey to the north of Triboar) and later recognized him from a wanted poster he saw while traveling south through Longsaddle. The merchant is sure that the dwarf he saw is an outlaw brigand known as the "Weevil" and according to the wanted poster, whoever delivers him alive to the authorities in Mirabar can collect a reward of 5,000 gp.
S11	Present letter of recommendation to dwarven royalty.	Ghelryn Foehammer, Dwarven Smith, Triboar

COMPLETED QUESTS

#	Description	For	Outcome
M1	Escort a delivery of equipment to Elmar Barthen at Barthen's Provisions in Phandalin.	Gundren Rockseeker Sildar Hallwinter	Delivered 10 gp each
M2	Send regards to Qelline Alderleaf in Phandalin.	Milo Goodbarrel Neverwinter Seven Suns Coster	Cooperation from Qelline. Talked to her son who showed us the secret entrance to the Redbrand cave. Provided safe haven in her hayloft before leaving for Cragmaw Castle.
M3	Find Gundren and Sildar who have been taken prisoner by the goblins in Nightstone and taken north.
	Kill Klarg, bugbear leader of the goblin gang.		Healing Potion (2), Golden Frog Statue Black Spider Note
	Sildar found in goblin cave and released by goblin leader Yeekmik once shown proof of Klarg's demise.
	Sildar said the three Rockseeker brothers recently located the entrance to the long-lost Wave Echo Cave, site of the mines of the Phandelver's Pact. Gundren had a map showing the entrance and an important amulet but the goblins took it. Sildar believes that Klarg sent the map and Gundren to the chief of the Cragmaws at Cragmaw Castle by order of the Black Spider. Found the amulet on the dead horses at Nightstone. The map has not been located.
	Sildar has a contact in Phandalin that may have information. He is a human wizard, Iarno Albrek. Iarno was a member of the Lords' Alliance sent to bring authority to Phandalin.
	Found a note from the Black Spider to Iarno which reveals that he is working with him. Seems like Iarno and Glasstaff are the same person. Sildar is obviously unaware of this.
	Freed from the Redbrand cell, Mirna, Nars and Nilsa Drendar, the wife and children of Thel the woodcarver, whose body was found in the Nothic's cave.
	Droop tells us that Cragmaw Castle is in Neverwinter Wood near the village of Oakhurst.
	At the edge of Neverwinter Wood, came across five Drow one of which was a woman holding a black staff with its top carved into the shape of a spider. Drow wanted the amulet. We were saved by a dragon which turned out to be a shape shifted halfling called Felgolos.

#	Description	For	Outcome
	Rescue the kobolds' dragon Calcryx who was stolen by the goblins	Yusdrayl, Leader of the kobolds	Freed Calcryx who promised to remember the service we had done. Stole 35gp, various keys, a wooden feather carved with tree branches, scrolls of mage armour, spider climb and knock and a small flask.
	Kill troll in sarcophagus	Two rings adorned with tiny silver dragons, a silver amulet and a ceremonial dagger with a carved-dragon hilt which Magnolious sensed was magic. cleric scrolls of command, cure wounds (level 2), inflict wounds (level 2) and guiding bolt (level 2) plus some money.
	Investigate carved feather, small flask, and dagger with dragon handle, and clay pot.
	Party was joined by Erky Timbers, a gnome, who wants to help pay back the goblins that had made him suffer for so long.
	Upon dying, elf turned into a strange grey-blue creature which looked almost half-formed at though made out of clay.
	Found unconscious Gundren and Talgen in basement of goblin hideout.
	Decide whether to tell Gundren that we have the amulet.
M4	Kill the Redbrand Leader, Glasstaff. Deliver any documents or correspondence.	Halia Thornton Phandalin Miners' Exchange	Reward 100gp
	Glasstaff has fled the Redbrand base in Phandalin. We believe he may be headed for Cragmaw Castle.
M5	Get revenge on Glasstaff for trying to have me killed.	Arfine specific	Glasstaff destroyed.
M6	Travel to the long-lost Wave Echo Cave, site of the mines of the Phandelver's Pact and the legendary Forge of Spells. Find out what has happened to Gundren's brothers.	Gundren Rockseeker	Saved Gundren's brother, Nundro and returned the body of his other brother, Tharden, to him. Received 10% share in the Wave Echo mine.
	Found an ancient furnace with a bellow that was once powered by a water wheel. It was guarded by a Flameskull that was decapitated by holding up the ancient amulet in our possession. The water is now dried out.

#	Description	For	Outcome
	Found a huge anvil which was identified as an ancient dwarven artefact called the Anvil of Moradin. It was originally used by the dwarves to craft magical items, but its power had faded and would now give a +1 bonus to weapons and armour for only 1-12 hours.
	Killed a drow that, upon death, turned into a greyish humanoid with almost no features. We had encountered a similar creature in the underground castle of the Cragmaws.
	Explore the riverbed for a magic item where the bugbears were digging.		Bracers of Archery, platinum rings (2)
	Kill the black spider, Nezznara.		Spider staff. Key with anvil head. Potion of healing.
S1	Find Talgen’s siblings.	Shava specific	They were found but were harmed by the effects of the Vampire tree. We bought two horses for Talgen so he could take them to Neverwinter in the hope oof finding a cure.
S6	Investigate rumours of a band of orcs camped out near Wyvern Tor.	Harbin, Phandalin Town Master	Received 150gp
	Have not yet spoken to town master. Heard rumours of his concerns while talking to locals in the inn.
	Harbin offered 100gp reward for dealing with the orcs at Wyvern Tor. He said another “much larger” orc-like creature had been seen there. Offered 150gp to remove both threats.
	We dealt with the orcs at Wyvern Tor as well as the “much larger” orc-like creature which turned out to be an ogre. We strung the ears of the ogre and the orcs together on a string to take to Harbin as proof of our success.
S12	Find the Margaster family stash.	Othovir, Harness Maker, Triboar
	Othovir told us of a stash of magic items that the high-born Margaster family, keeps locked away for emergencies. The family owns a three-story tower in Silverymoon (2 days from Everlund) that has a detached carriage house on the property, and it is here that the items are hidden, somewhere inside the carriage itself.
	Found the carriage house, defeated the enemies within, and retrieved loot. We were discovered by a magic-wielding resident of the Margaster house and we separated and ran, being pursued by her. We managed to escape Silverymoon to return to our manor.
S13	Deliver the horse harnesses to Noannar’s Hold.	Narth Tezrin, Lionshield Coster, Yartar

#	Description	For	Outcome
	Narth asked us to deliver horse harnesses to Noannar's Hold, a village near the High Forest. A few months ago, the Lionshield Coster received a payment from one Amrath Mulnobar, castellan of Noannar's Hold, for horse harnesses made by Triboar's finest harness-maker, Othovir. Narth has packed the harnesses in a large crate with the Lionshield Coster emblem painted on its sides. We received 100gp up front and can keep the cart and Boris, draft horse.
	On the way to Noannar's Hold, stopped in Calling Horns village. Stayed at inn with proprietor Tamalin Zoar. During our stay there was a troll break in. Tamalin asked us to help discover the recent increase in troll activity but we declined as it would involve many days exploring the Evermoors (possible revisit?).
	Delivered harnesses to Amrath but decided to explore further due to rumours and suspicious activity.
	Explored the hold and killed the hunt lords therein leaving Amrath alive. Took the harnesses.
S14	On the way to Silverymoon (S12), entered a mysterious mansion through a magic door at the end of a cave and, upon defeating the enemies within, received a "Deed to the Manor" which entitles the bearer to one Extra Dimensional Manor and everything found therein.
S16	Bury the bones of the elf woman.
	When exploring the mysterious mansion (S14), we came across the ghost of an elf woman who was suffering. To free her from her anguish, Shava agreed to hear her confession in the presence of her god and to bury her remains at the foot of a tree. At this point her form dissipated leaving only her bones, which we collected up and put into our bag of holding.
	Shava buried her remains beneath a tree near our manor house.

RESOLVED RUMOURS

Four adventurers (three men and one woman) looking for a vampire tree in the forest	Garon, barkeep	Ol' Boar Inn, Oakhurst
A group of three humans had been held by the goblins before being sent "below to Belak". Shava thought they could have been the group that Talgen was part of, although there should have been four of them. When asked about Belak, Erky said that he had heard the goblins whispering about a "wicked old human", probably a spellcaster, who tends an enchanted garden with a strange tree they call the "Gulthias".	Erky Timbers, gnome	Goblin hideout

Mayor of Phandalin looking for someone to investigate rumours of a band of orcs camped out near Wyvern Tor.	Locals	Inn in Phandalin
